What are the career possibilities with CELTA?

Most English speaking countries and non-English speaking countries are very keen to employ Cambridge CELTA trained teachers. CELTA ensures that you have a globally recognised qualification that is accepted as a standard in most parts of the world. Additionally, because of the shortage of teachers with the CELTA, you will be able to be far more selective about where you choose to work and to command better terms and conditions. The CELTA qualification also gives you access to a range of further study options as your career develops – after a few years of practice you can take the Cambridge Diploma in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (Delta). This course will help you move into academic management, teacher training or materials development, for example.

What is the basic CELTA course content?

The core of the course is six hours of teaching practice. In this time, CELTA students teach a variety of lesson types to adult learners of English at two different levels. The supervised teaching practice is supported with guided lesson planning and personalised feedback on lessons. There are seminars or workshops each day, which include demonstration lessons, discussion of teaching principles and techniques, materials evaluation, and language analysis for teaching purposes. Students also observe six hours of teaching by experienced teachers and teacher trainers in language classes at the school or on DVD. In addition, students write four assignments (750 -1000 words each) on language teaching and learning. The course also includes teaching practice and an assessed lesson with pre-intermediate level students in the final week.

Sample course timetable (week 1)

The courses run for 20 days over 5 weeks from 9.30am to 5.30pm, Monday to Thursday (except public holidays). As the course is very intensive, you will also need to allow time in the evenings, on Fridays and weekends for planning lessons and writing assignments.

How is the CELTA course assessed?

The course assessment is continuous; there is no final “exam.” The training centre will make the assessment procedure as transparent as possible. Students are able to ask their trainer at any point in the course how they are progressing and what they can do to improve. Students are made fully aware of the criteria for assessment throughout the course and are given tutorial sessions to focus on strengths and to identify areas in need of development.

How is the CELTA course graded?

The grades awarded are Pass, Pass B and Pass A and are based primarily on teaching ability and competence in lesson planning. About 20% or more of candidates are awarded Pass B, 5 % Pass A and 70% Pass.

The written assignments are also taken into account for the final grade. Award of the CELTA requires meeting Cambridge criteria for the ability to teach adult learners of English. On very rare occasions, students can fail the course if they do not meet the standards. In this case they will not be certified. If any student is at risk of failing they are offered additional tutor time and support.

At NZLC we make every effort to be explicit and clear about the grading system. Each lesson is graded with tutor comments explaining the grade and how, if it is appropriate, the grade could be improved for the next lesson. During the course you will have ongoing oral and written feedback and two individual tutorials with your tutor who will explain how you are progressing and support you. A certificate, issued by Cambridge ESOL, is sent out approximately six weeks after the end of the course.
